Description	Depart from Geneva and visit Dijon, prefecture of the Côte d'or department in the Franche Compté region. Former capital of the Dukes of Burgundy, visit its famous palace. Renowned for its gastronomy and listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, this wealth is due to its past since it was the stronghold of the Duchy of Burgundy. French since 1477, the city was during the 15th century a famous place in all of Europe. Subsequently, in the 19th century, Dijon experienced its second prosperous period thanks to its industrial development. Also known for shopping, Dijon is crisscrossed with pedestrian streets and is the heart of the city and is the largest open-air shopping area in Burgundy. There are 1,400 shops and services offered to shoppers and tourists. The offer is diversified: clothing, perfumery, leisure, decoration, tableware, gastronomy and wines, antiques, technological products.
